About Eunice

EUNICE, the European University for Customised Education is nurtured by seven universities' intellectual and infrastructure input –Poznań University of Technology (Poland), Brandenburg University of Technology (Germany), University of Cantabria, University of Mons, University of Catania, Université Polytechnique Hauts-de-France (France) and University of Vaasa (Finland)–.

This alliance, born from the European Universities initiative and funded by the European Commission, is building a solid network of interactions between educational institutions and other agents to work on social and economic challenges. Some of EUNICE 's actions are focused in offering joined degrees and training and skill development courses.
